The New Orleans Riot.

LETTER FROM MR. CONWAY.

To the Editors of the Evening Post:—It is a great mistake to suppose that the riot in New Orleans resulted from the mere assemblage of a Convention, or the passage of a procession of colored men through the streets. These were used as mere pretexts. The determination to murder the Union people of this city dates back at least a year from this time. I was then Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in Louisiana, and my opportunities for gaining information was extensive. The rebel armies surrendered in the spring. During all the following summer one would think the army of the Confederacy were rushing into New Orleans. The streets were thronged with gray-coated men; rebel-generals, colonels, majors, captains, and officers of all grades, together with private soldiers, filled the streets, the hotels and boarding houses. They used to hurrah for Jeff. Davis occasionally. To curse the Union men of New Orleans was more common than to insult the northern men who were in the city—except officers and agents of the Freedmen's Bureaus. I have stood on Canal street and heard more violent language used against Durant, Hahn, Dostie, Henderson and other leading loyalists as they passed along than I ever heard before or since. Governor Wells was at that time a favorite with the rebels. He was not cursed by the men in gray, but was intensely disliked by those in blue. He did as much to put rebels in power and displace loyal men as any ex-Confederate would do. It will take a good deal of repentance to wipe out the stain he then brought upon himself, as it will to cause loyal men to believe him true to his present professions of love for freedom and equal rights.

The rebels were not in New Orleans long before we could discover them wearing secret badges, by means of which to identify one another. They were discovered holding "club meetings" in various places. Frequently, on the streets, one could have been heard saying to another (as I have heard them myself,) "We will soon rid New Orleans of these fellows"—meaning the loyal men. The great object of these secret leagues soon became known. It was that "none but Confederates shall be in office." How well they have succeeded the present unhappy condition of Louisiana fully shows. The fact that every office is in the hands of a rebel illustrates the efficiency of their organizations. In October last my own life was constantly threatened, and it was a common thing for me to go to my residence under protection of the provost-guard, or such members of the city police as were good enough to be trusted. Several officers of the Bureau under my charge had the same experience. One young man, a member of an Indiana regiment, who was doing duty in one of the parishes, was carried off to the woods and murdered. This was the plan adopted at the time for the murder of myself and the chiefs of departments in the Bureau. The plan was discovered and made known to the military authorities, and was thus rendered inoperative.

As soon as President Johnson evinced a desire to pardon all the rebels, and restore all their property, then the experience of the Unionists became peculiarly hard. Day after day the feeling of bitterness increased till it reached a point wherein "slave codes" were enacted and enforced as if "nothing had happened." To knock down every negro along the street became the same pastime that it was prior to the war. I saw, near my headquarters, one day, a policeman who was slightly intoxicated, knock down every colored person he met, it made no difference whether the person was old or young, male or female. All were knocked down with the fist of the "guardian of the public peace." I took some pleasure in going out, putting my hand on the policeman's neck, and, with the aid of a black soldier, lodged him in the jail connected with my office.

Probably two hundred men, dressed in gray were standing near the policeman when he amused himself in this chivalrous manner, but not one true enough to even remonstrate against the outrage. On the contrary, all appeared to enjoy the scene hugely. General Fullerton's arrival and his subsequent treatment of the freedmen, were taken to mean very special favor by the President for the Southern people. The rebels grew worse and worse, and it even became a question with Northern and Southern Unionists, whether or not it was best to remain in the State and endure insult and injury from men who had not yet washed the blood of thousands of loyal men from their skirts. It was thought best to fight it out. Many thought the President would ultimately show himself determined to punish treason rather than allow traitors to punish loyal men. Things became so bad that General Canby said to me one day in October, that he thought that if things went on as they were then, not six months would pass ere every man would either be murdered or driven from the State. We all know how cautious a man the General is, and how slow he is to express a rash or hasty opinion on any subject. Look at the facts and see how remarkably correct he was in his prediction.

One day Judge Abel, one of the worst men in Louisiana, issued a card to the judiciary of the State, calling upon them not to recognize the Freedmen's Bureau, and making use of language exceedingly offensive and outrageous. The card met General Sheridan's eye and made him very uneasy.

The General started to my headquarters. He came into my room, looking as angry as if he was ready for a fight with Early. He used exactly this language: "Mr. Conway, I have read Judge Abel's card. I consider it an insult to the Government and the man himself too dangerous to be at liberty. Were I in command of the department, and were it not that I should deem it improper to interfere with matters properly belonging to General Canby, I certainly would take Judge Abel, put him on a boat, land him at Ship Island, and keep him there till he could learn to respect this Government. The fact is, these rebels want to drive us out of New Orleans; but we'll show him that we are not going to leave here, by G—." Yours,

THOMAS W. CONWAY.

A COSTLY WINE.—The Rose Rosenwine, in the Rathkeller at Bremen, is famous for its delicious flavor and fabulous value. A single bottle of this wine has cost the town more than 2,750,000 rix dalers, or about 10,000 francs, so that, at the same rate, one drop of it is worth 1,400 francs, or £56. The financial accuracy of this calculation is incontestible. The wine in question was bottled in 1624, at which time a cask of it, containing 24 bottles, cost 300 rix dalers, or £48. Reckoning cellorage, duty and interest, it is found that up to the present day one cask of this wine has cost nearly $600,000,000 rix dalers, and a single bottle the price mentioned above. During the French occupation of Bremen, the Generals of the empire emptied a considerable number of the bottles containing this precious beverage, so that the citizens of Bremen maintain that their wine paid France a larger contribution than all the towns of Germany put together.

The Portland Press says that one of the dispatches, after the fire, spoke of everything having burnt at a white heat so that there were no blackened walls, and said that "the tints among the ruins are a study for an artist." Very naturally this was printed "tents among the ruins," whereupon Harper's Illustrated Weekly comes out on July 28th with a picturesque view of "the tents among the ruins," which the citizens of Portland have vainly sought to locate. There are the tall chimneys and five-storied walls, with large trees, showing it to be in the heart of the city, and nine or ten large tents, with families clustered about their doors in picturesque attitudes, women washing and men smoking their pipes, all drawn by the magic pencil of their special artist, Mr. Stanley Fox, from the unfortunate "tints" of the reporter, which got changed into tents.

ALL FOR STEVENS.—The Union Republican Convention of Lancaster was held in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, on Wednesday, August 15th, when Hon. Thaddeus Stephens was re-nominated for Congress. Previous to the balloting for candidates for State Senate and House of Representatives, the gentlemen seeking those nominations were compelled to pledge themselves, if elected, to vote for Hon. Thaddeus Stevens for United Senator as long as he consents to be a candidate.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.—The Chicago papers say that "the 'Grand Army of the Republic,' a benevolent and patriotic association of officers and soldiers of the late volunteer army is rapidly increasing in numbers throughout the State. It now has 'posts' in every county, and all the soldires are flocking into it."

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Fourth Regular Session.

Senate.

TUESDAY, Sept. 18th, 1866.

Prayer by Rev. David Leslie.

Mr. HUSTON introduced a bill to amend an act amendatory of an act to provide a code of civil procedure. The bill provides simply for inserting in the pamphlet copy of "General Laws," section 5, as it appears in bound volume of the code. It was read first time.

M. JEFFRIES asked to be excused from acting on the Committee on Elections. The Senate gave consent, and

The PRESIDENT appointed Mr. Caldwell, instead.

Mr. PALMER moved that the Senate now proceed to vote for an U. S Senator, in accordance with the law of Congress. The motion prevailed.

Mr. PALMER nominated Addison C. Gibbs.

Mr. MILLER nominated J. S. Smith.

Mr. BAYLEY nominated John Kelsey.

Mr. JEFFRIES nominated Jas. K. Kelly.

Those who voted for Addison C. Gibbs were Messrs. Brown, Cartwright, Cranston, Dolph, Donnell, Hinsdale, Johnson, Powell, Palmer, Pyle, Sterns, Watson, Cornelius.—13.

For J. S. Smith—Messrs. Caldwell, Crawford, Cyrus, Huston and Miller.—5.

For Jas. K. Kelly—Messrs. Ford, Ison, Jeffries.—3.

For John Kelsey—Mr. Bayley.

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON.

The Senate met and adjourned.

House.

The House met as usual. Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Myers of the Church. Journal read and approved

The SPEAKER announced Messrs. Gingles, Whiteaker and Hindman a committee to inquire into the condition of the Insane Asylum.

YAMHILL COUNTY CONTEST.

Mr. HELM introduced a minority report from the select committee to which was referred the case of the contested seats from Yamhill county. It argues that the contestants are unjustly kept out of their seats, that they received a majority of the legal votes, and that Mr. Laughlin, one of the sitting members, was not qualified by proper length of residence. Laid on the table to await action.

PROTECTION AGAINST INDIANS.

His Excellency Governor WOODS appeared and read the following special message:

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly: I should fail to do my duty were I not to call your attention to the oft repeated depredations committed by hostile bands of Indians upon our fellow-citizens of the counties of Wasco Grant, Baker, Union and Umatilla. For more than three years these incursions have been of almost daily occurrence. Many of our best citizens have been sacrificed—murdered by these savages; and so frequent and so furious are their attacks that it is now wholly unsafe for small parties to pass through large portions of our State. More than one hundred thousand dollars worth of property in horses and cattle is driven off annually, families are compelled to abandon their homes, large and valuable portions of our State laid waste, commerce and communication with the mining districts have been almost entirely cut off. Stages have been attacked upon the public highway and robbed of the United States mail, and mail contractors compelled to abandon their routes. And all this by a foe in our midst, within our own borders, and yet that adequate and efficient protection due the citizens from the General Government has not been given. The people call for help. That call should be answered. They are our fellow citizens. They endure the perils and privations of the frontier. They dig in our mines and give a vast revenue to the General Government and to the State. They have furnished soldiers to protect the Government. They pay taxes and help to bear the burdens of the State. Justice and humanity require that they should have protection in return; and unless that protection is speedily given some of the very best portions of our State must be abandoned, depopulated, yielded up to the savages. I urge it upon you, therefore, to devise some method by which immediate protection and assistance can be given. We owe it to ourselves, we owe it to our suffering fellow-citizens, we owe it to humanity to do something, and to do it quickly. The value of human life and the protection of the citizen are above all mere moneyed considerations. This subject has demanded attention for years, and yet nothing has been done. The time for hesitation has passed—we can ignore it no longer. Do your duty, and I will sustain you by all lawful means. [Applause.]

Mr. HUMASON presented a letter concerning the late stage robbery, which was read.

Mr. UPTON moved that 500 copies of the Governor's message be ordered printed. Carried.

The message and the letter were then referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATOR.

Mr. STARKWEATHER offered a resolution to proceed immediately to the election of a U. S. Senator.

Mr. HUMASON objected that the regular order of business had not yet been gone through with.

Mr. STARKWEATHER was under the impression that all the regular business had been transacted.

Mr. HUMASON said he knew of other business which should come up; besides he did not think it legal to go into an election to-day. He moved that the motion lay upon the table, and be made the order of the day at 12 o'clock. Carried: Ayes, 23; nays, 22. Mr. Lockhart and Rosenheim voting aye.

THE GRANT COUNTY CONTEST.

Mr. HUMASON offered the following:

Whereas, All the evidence before this House in the matter of the contested seats from the county of Grant shows that the contestants, J. M. McCoy and S. W. Kinesley are legally elected members of this body, from said county; therefore Resolved, That the seats in this House now occupied by James H. Brents and M. M. McKean be vacated by them; and that J. M. McCoy and Kinesley are declared entitled to the same as the members of this body from Grant county, Oregon.

Mr. HELM moved its adoption.

Mr. OLNEY. The House will remember that on yesterday we gave leave to the parties in this contest to take testimony in Grant county. It is absolutely necessary to a fair trial of this case that such testimony should be taken. This proposition is to decide the question without taking testimony, and it asks the House to give the seats to the contestants upon which they claim to have, and which, however, they have never brought before this body. It is just like a plaintiff, after he has submitted his testimony, to ask the Court to decide in his favor, without waiting to hear the defendant. He proceeded to argue against such a course. It would be improper, because unparliamentary and unjust, both to the sitting members and to the county. He moved to lay the resolution on the table. Lost, 23 to 22.

Mr. OLNEY. I arise to a point of order. This whole resolution is out of order, because it was decided yesterday and it is not now properly brought before the House by a motion to reconsider or a report from the committee.

Mr. HELM moved the previous question.

Much confused discussion followed as to the propriety of entertaining the motion, Messrs. Upton, Olney and others contending that the point of order had not been decided before Mr. Helm's motion was made.

The SPEAKER decided the motion in order.

Mr. UPTON arose and addressed the Chair. [Cries of "question," "question."] I desire to claim as a privilege under the rules, a division of this question. I call for a division of the resolution, and move the indefinite postponement of the part concerning Mr. McKean.

Some discussion followed on points of order, pending which,

On motion of Mr. GARLICK, House adjourned.

AFTERNOON—SENATORIAL ELECTION.

The SPEAKER announced the special order.

Mr. WORTH offered a resolution to postpone the election until next Tuesday. He thought an election now would be illegal, although it was probable that if a Republican were elected he would get his seat.

Mr. HERMAN said he was surprised that he should have any uneasiness about the matter then, for it was the intention of the Legislature to elect a Republican. [Laughter.] He was opposed to postponing, and in favor of deciding the matter as soon as possible, so as to get to work with the regular business of the country. He had no doubt about the legality of the proceeding, for the law does not prohibit an election, even if this should not be the second Tuesday, as meant by the statute. He contended it was the second Tuesday.

Messrs. Worth, Helm, Gehr and others favored, and Messrs. Herman, Olney, Upton, and Nicklin opposed the resolution. Carried; ayes, 24; nays, 22; Messrs. Lockhart, Rosenheim and White voting aye.

GRANT COUNTY CONTEST.

The House resumed the consideration of Mr. Humason's resolution.

Mr. UPTON. This is the most astounding proposition I ever heard made to a Legislative body. In the first place it assumes that the case is duly before this House, when it is well known to every member here that there is not one particle of evidence before us on the subject. No members of this House, but the committee who have the matter in charge, have a word of authentic evidence. And yet the proposition is here made that we proceed in direct violation of all law and usage and oust these members from their seats to which their title is fixed by the best official evidence of which we all have information. Not only is it proposed that we do that, but that we do it without giving them a hearing. Now, the opposition have charged us with being very corrupt and dishonest for the purpose of carrying partisan purposes; but, sir, guilty as we may be, we have not gone so low down as this. We have never proposed to pass finally upon a question of this character without hearing evidence on both sides. In this case we have attempted to provide for getting all the evidence on both sides, so that a just decision may be made. I cannot but believe that this resolution has been offered without due consideration. I do not think any member of this body could be so base as to offer a proposition of this kind after reflection. He also raised the point of order that the proposition was out of order because it had already been decided.

Mr. HELM moved the previous question.

Mr. UPTON insisted upon his point of order, and the Speaker said that upon reflection he had become convinced of the correctness of the point and so ruled.

After some confusion Mr. HUMASON offered a resolution instructing the Committee on elections to refer the case back to the House, which was amended by fixing the time on next Thursday.

Mr. OLNEY opposed, because it would be inconsistent with the action of yesterday and other reasons.

The resolution passed 26 ayes to 19 nays. Mr. Olney changed his vote to the affirmative.

Mr. HUMASON moved to reconsider.

Mr. OLNEY moved to postpone the motion.

Mr. LOCKHART moved to indefinitely postpone Mr. Olney's motion.

Mr. NICKLIN moved to lay Lockhart's motion on the table.

Mr. UPTON. I believe I can but one motion upon top of that, I move to adjourn. [Laughter.] Refused, 23 to 23.

After some discussion Mr. NICKLIN moved to adjourn which was lost.

At 5, P. M. Mr. HENDERSHOT moved to adjourn. Carried.

The Daily Oregonian

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 20, 1866.

The "Situation" at Salem.

Our Salem letter gives a very clear account of the "situation" at the Capital. Dispatches received last evening inform us that, instead of forcing an election yesterday, it was agreed to defer the matter until next week, and in the meantime the Constitutional Amendment could be considered in the House and acted upon. There has been some question whether last Tuesday was the day required by law for the election of Senator to take place: though it is very clear that the Union members held an affirmative opinion on this subject at the time they met in caucus on Monday night, and that the action of two of the three who refused to let the matter come to a vote on the next day was the result of an after-thought that sought an excuse for declining to support the caucus nominee. Men may very reasonably differ in their opinions as to whether last Tuesday was the proper day for the election of a Senator; but no man can preserve a reputation for honorable character and conduct who pledges himself to vote for the nominee of his party, whoever he may be, and afterwards refuses to do so. Whether the two Union members who participated in the caucus have peremptorily refused to vote for the nominee, we are not informed. It may be their intention to do so still. If they do not, they may assure themselves that their conduct will be reprobated by those who elected them. The caucus was of their own seeking, and they are expected to abide its decision. We understand that the Union members, with possibly one exception, have agreed to support the Constitutional amendment. This is the grand test of fealty to the Union party, and no man can maintain his connection with that party, who opposes this great measure. A vote was probably reached on the amendment at a late hour last night.

"Woodman" objects to the fourth section of the constitutional amendment because it forbids "loyal men" being paid for their slaves lost by war or emancipation. Everybody must confess that this is a very powerful objection. The States abolished slavery, and now the General Government is to return to "loyal" slave owners the value of their chattels! The Southern people "accepted the situation," that is they abolished slavery of their own free will; but now, such of them as can prove their loyalty are to have recourse upon the public treasury for the price of their slaves. Let this doctrine once be established, and the Government will be compelled to pay for every slave who has been emancipated. R. E. Lee and A. H. Stephens would recover the price of their chattels; for, by the new rule are not these persons and all their kind strictly "loyal?" We want the amendment to prevent the South from recovering payment for her slaves.

The Military Division of the West, under command of Lieutenant-General Sherman, has been divided into four sub-departments. General Ord commands that of Arkansas, with headquarters at Little Rock; General Hancock that of Missouri, with headquarters at Leavenworth; General Phillip St. George Cooke that of the Platte, with headquarters for the present at Omaha, and General Terry that of Minnesota, with headquarters to be chosen at his discretion. General Thomas remains in command of the Department of the Tennessee.

"THAT'S THE WAY THE MONEY GOES!"—Before the steamship Sierra Nevada left San Francisco on her last trip, a story was current in that city that a distinguished military officer had arrived here, the principal object of whose visit was to insure the re-election of the present U. S. Senator, J. W. Nesmith. A report was also in circulation there that a draft for $30,000 had been sent to Salem as a "feeler" for doubtful members of the Legislature. All this was freely talked of in San Francisco before the Sierra Nevada left.

The Statesman's letter writer don't like the pending amendment because he "doubts very much whether after its passage, the gravest case of treason could be punished more severely than by merely disabling the offender from holding office." Just think of a follower of "Moses" urging such a reason. Greatly desirous of having traitors punished, aren't you? Better repeat some of your "tribune's" old speeches on the subject. They will do you good.

The Northern Teamsters' Association of California has disbanded. The scheme for hauling over the Chico route—so called—to Idaho, has exploded. It is not likely that it will be revived the present year. A few teams may go through hereafter, but organized effort has, for the present, been abandoned.

General Sherman passed through to Kearny on the 20th of August en route for Fort Laramie. He was accompanied by his brother, Senator Sherman of Ohio.

The sum total of appropriations by the last Congress, amounts to $122,000,000.

STATE ITEMS.

Bears appear to be numerous in Jackson county. The Sentinel says they are seen on Galic creek nearly every day.

The mail route from Salem, via Jefferson to Lebanon, has been changed to run via Condit and Scio to Lebanon. The public service is a weekly one, but the people along the route are carrying once a week by private enterprise, so that they have semi-weekly mails.

Jacksonville, says a local paper, has been improving very rapidly this summer, and travelers say it is the only live place this side of Marysville. The healthy locality and the rough mountain and field sports in such close proximity, are certain in future to make Jacksonville a favorite resort for those seeking relaxation from business.

The mail route from Oregon City, via Cuttings, Glad Tidings, Silverton, and Sublimity, to Lebanon, some time since petitioned for and recommended by the Postal Agent, has been established and bids fair, in due time, to be advertised for. This is a route, the want of which has been long and seriously felt by a large population.

The Jacksonville Sentinel calls the attention of persons looking for settlements to Southern Oregon, remarking that to those who are willing to use a moderate amount of exertion, and content with the prospect of an independence in a few years, there is no portion of Oregon offering so many inducements as the valley of Rogue river, or almost any portion of Jackson or Douglas counties. The soil is adapted to every kind of husbandry. The cereals and all kinds of grasses, as well as every species of fruit that can be raised in the Sacramento valley, are here certain crops. The stock range in the eastern part of the county is extensive enough to raise nearly a full supply of beef for the Idaho market, and is as yet unsettled. Those who are in search of homes and are willing to work for them, will do well to consider the advantages offered by Southern Oregon before going elsewhere. If comfortable homes and comparative independence is all they seek they can find them here; but if they expect to accumulate fortunes by idleness and waiting, they had better seek farther.

From a letter written by Capt. Sprague of the Oregon Infantry, to the Jacksonville Sentinel, we make the following extracts relative to south-eastern Oregon: "I know of no spot on the Pacific coast that gives better promise at some future time to become a paradise than the valley of Goose Lake. It is bounded on the east by the Sierra Nevadas, and on the west by the Goose Lake Hills, well watered, plenty of timber, with a soil unsurpassed for richness, judging by the luxuriant grass with which the whole valley is covered. The lake is a magnificent sheet of water—about 40 miles long by 10 wide—with fish in abundance; and with the mines of Nevada and Owyhee for a market, it seems to me the most inviting spot for those seeking a new world to settle that can be found on this coast. * * * Especially is it inviting for those who intend raising stock. There are now thousands of acres upon which the various kinds of grass are growing as high as the back of a horse. I believe four or five tons of hay to the acre can be made on a large part of the valley. * * * The Eugene City Company's Wagon Road will pass through the upper end of this valley, and already a good wagon road leads from Jacksonville, by Fort Klamath, to Goose Lake and Surprise Valley, and along this road are many beautiful locations for farming or stock raising. Sprague's River valley west, and Drew's Valley east of Goose Lake Hills, containing many thousands of acres of beautifully situated and apparently productive land.

FROM IDAHO.

We clip from the Boise City Statesman of the 15th inst.: We learn by Thursday's stage from Ruby that Hill Beachy's Humboldt Stage had made the first trip through to Ruby City.

Indian news has been scarce for the last ten days, but Lo comes to our relief again. A man by the name of Hill, who keeps the ferry at the crossing of the Owyhee, while out hunting stock last Tuesday was attacked by Indians and shot through both shoulders, one with a bullet and the other with an arrow. He killed two Indians in the fight and wounded some others.

The Idaho Index, T. Vaill's paper, and the organ of the Owyhee county democracy, is dead.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SALEM, September 19th, 1866.

The Senate adjourned at noon to-day, transacting no business of importance. A spirited debate has been kept up on the Constitutional Amendment in the House all the afternoon. A vote will probably be taken during this evening's session.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19—Tom. Donahue, who shot Fred Patterson in Walla Walla about a year ago, was arrested here to-day. The shooting was done in a barber's shop, while Patterson was being shaved. Donahue was tried and the jury disagreed, and pending his second trial he made his escape. Nothing has been known of his whereabouts since then until it was ascertained recently that he had come to this city and shipped as a seaman on the Vanderbilt. He has the reputation of being a desperate character. Patterson, whom he killed, was the man who shot Capt. Staples of the steamship Brother Jonathan in Portland a few years ago. Donahue was formerly a special policeman in Portland. He will be sent back to Oregon for trial.

The suit of Mary R. Waters vs. Michael Bowden, to recover $2,640 for an alleged malicious prosecution, is on trial in the 4th district court, before a jury.

The trial of Margaret J. Denny for shooting at Mrs. De Wolf with a pistol about two months ago is still progressing in the county court. The court room is crowded with spectators, who eagerly listen for any developments which transpire. The trial will probably be concluded this evening or to-morrow morning.

In the United States district court this morning default of claimant was entered in the suit of George Manton vs. steamer Oregon to recover damages for the sinking of the bark Kent.

R. C. Brooks was brought up before the U. S. Commissioner this afternoon for stealing the Inspector's stencil plates and forging U. S. inspection marks. Evidence went to prove that Brooks had acknowledged to officers that he had used the plates in marking uninspected liquor. The discovery of fraud arose from an alleged theft of whisky from Brooks' distillery.

The Jewish citizens of this city are to-day celebrating Day of Atonement. All their stores are closed and the usual ceremonies are progressing in the different houses of worship. The day is one of unusual religious importance and its strict observance consists principally in fasting and prayer.

Two of the employees on the steamship Moses Taylor were arrested this afternoon on a charge of having broken open the trunks and baggage of passengers on her recent trip to this port from San Juan del Sur.

A boy named John McFarland, whose parents reside on Folsom street, fell overboard from the Folsom street wharf to-day noon and was drowned. His body was recovered and taken to the Coroner's office.

Suit has been commenced in the United States District Court, on the bond of Martin Buck, a distiller at Redwood City, who is accused of having carried on business without making the necessary entries in a distiller's book as required by law.

Jas. P. Robinson has brought suit in the United States Court against W. L. Perkins, to recover a balance of $7,777 50, alleged to be due on account of certain moneys collected by defendant as the agent of plaintiff. Plaintiff is a citizen of New York.

The Chileans of this city yesterday celebrated their anniversary and wound up by a grand mass meeting last evening, where patriotic speeches were made and national patriotic music discoursed.

The steamer Active, which left Victoria on the afternoon of September 14th, arrived here at 1 P. M., to-day. She brings $113,847 in treasure.

The examination of P. D. Headly was resumed at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Thos. H. Williams, the legal adviser of Wells, Fargo & Co. in Nevada, testified at length as to the manner in which the defendant conducted his speculations. According to his own confession, made at Gold Hill, it seems that his embezzlements were entirely from deposits at the bank, of which he was agent, and concealed by means of false entries and omissions to enter such business transactions on the books. Certificates were issued for every such deposit and a memorandum of the transaction made on the margin or stub of the certificate book, when these several amounts should have been posted on the bank ledger. A sufficient amount of them were left out in order to cover up his delinquency. His regular reports to the house here were falsified and made to correspond with the entries on his bank ledger. Judge Campbell for the defense then moved for the discharge of the prisoner on the ground that if any offense had been committed it was not against the laws of California but of Nevada, and that if any offense had been committed it was that of obtaining money under false pretences. The draft drawn on Gold Hill on the concern here was a device contrived and executed by the defendant to induce them to part with their money. They paid out the money themselves on the strength of this draft, and not into Headly's hands. Further, that if he did receive the money through Burling, an innocent agent, it was not received in the course of his embezzlement as an agent of Wells, Fargo & Co. Counsel cited numerous authorities to sustain the point that he had no authority from his employers to draw demands for his own private speculations, and when he drew the draft he was not acting in accordance with his duties as their agent, and therefore cannot be held for embezzlement. If the drawing of the draft constituted the embezzlement, then the crime was committed the moment the draft was drawn on Gold Hill, and the defendant is therefore responsible to the State of Nevada. Judge Campbell further contended that there was no evidence of defendant's intention to steal the money, and, without such intent the crime was not made out. Numerous authorities were cited to show a want of jurisdiction in the California courts. The prosecution did not reply, and the motion to discharge was submitted and overruled.

Hall McAllister appeared for the prosecution. The purport of his argument is that Headly, by virtue of his position as agent, drew the drafts which was the inception of crime, which was consummated when the money was paid to Burling in this city, for Headly's benefit.

Rev. John S. Seelie, well known for many years as one of the pioneer Congregational ministers of California, died at Princeton, Mass., August 21.

The Board of Underwriters yesterday elected Edwin N. Torrey and John C. Merrill, members of the Board of Fire Commissioners. The Board of Commissioners is now complete, and consists of B. H. Freeman and John Y. McKibbe, elected by the people; J. S. Dimon, elected by the supervisors, and E. N. Torrey and John C. Merrill, elected by the Board of Underwriters.

The Markets.

Flour—No export demand worth noticing. Jobbing trade steady at current figures.

Wheat—Receipts continue large, much of it shrunken. Considerable quantities going into warehouse. Export demand limited. Millers buying in small lots as needed. Sales fair, $1 40; ordinary, $1 35; Santa Clara, $1 50; choice milling, $1 45.

Barley—Market quiet. Now at 80 cts @ 90 cts; choice old brewing, $1 ℞ 100 lbs.

Oats—Common Coast, $1 32½; good shipping $1 45.

Potatoes—Mission are quoted at 60 cts @ 65 cts; peachblow at 65 cts ℞ 100 lbs.

Gold was 145 in New York yesterday. Legal Tenders dull at 71¼ buying, and 72 selling.

Mining stocks are a little off to-day. Savage declined $30 from the 17th; from the morning board yesterday Yellow Jacket declined $20; Belcher and Chollar-Potosi, each, $30; Ophir $2 50; Overman $2, and Imperial $1 50.

Arrived—Sept. 18th, ship Caroline Reed, 12 days from Bellingham Bay, with coal; British bark Tanquil, 68 days from Newcastle, N. S. W., with coal; bark Emily Banning, 11 days from Bellingham Bay, with coal. Sept. 19th, bark Huntsville, 15 days from Port Ludlow, lumber.

Sailed—Sept. 19th, British ship Empress of India, for Queenstown; ship Mary Francis, for Honolulu; bark Rival for Puget Sound; bark Pride of the Sea, for Sydney.

Letter from Salem.

SALEM, Sept. 18, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The Union members of both houses, with the exception of Lockhart of Coos and Curry, went into caucus last night to nominate a candidate for U. S. Senator. Lockhart refused to go in, on the ground that he would not place himself in a position to be bound to vote for the nominee, in a certain case. Though no resolution was adopted pledging members to abide the result, yet that had been the universal talk of candidates and their friends, both on the inside and the outside of the Legislature, ever since members began to arrive here. It seemed to be agreed on all hands that whoever should get a majority of the Union votes in caucus, should have all in the Legislature. The caucus was held, resulting in a vote of 20 for ex-Gov. Gibbs on the first ballot, 15 for Mitchell and 4 scattering; total, 39. On the next ballot, the vote stood for Gibbs 19, Mitchell 16 and 4 scattering. The third ballot resulted in giving Gibbs the nomination by 21 votes to 15 for Mitchell and 3 scattering. The voting was done by ballot. Though some claimed that the first ballot—twenty—nominated Gibbs, it was agreed without hesitation to make no nomination without a majority of all the professed Union votes, which would require 21, just the number cast for Gibbs on the third ballot.

Immediately on the adjournment of the caucus, it was found that White and Rosenheim of your county and Lockhart of Coos and Curry were disposed to bolt the nomination. Thus far they have held out against the wishes of Mr. Mitchell and his sober and wiser friends, who warmly urge all of Mr. M.'s friends to go in, as they are bound, in good faith, and vote for the successful candidate. It is doubtful what course they may eventually pursue; but to-day they have been voting mostly with Humason, Whiteaker & Co. First, when the resolution was introduced to proceed to vote for U. S. Senator, they voted to lay it on the table, carrying the question. Then, after dinner, the resolution was taken up again, and they voted with the Copperheads to postpone it till Tuesday, the 25th. Whether they intend to vote right along, hereafter, with the Copperhead side of the House, remains to be seen. How they can reconcile such a course with their professions of Unionism before and since the election, last June, or with their tacit pledge to vote for the nominee of the caucus (by going into and acting with it), is very difficult to be seen. Their conduct is very freely and strongly censured by every Union man whom I have heard speak about it.

The Senate took a vote this morning for United States Senator, in accordance with the law of Congress. The Union members, with the exception of Bayley, voted for Gov. Gibbs. Bayley had voluntarily, I am told, assured the Governor yesterday that he would support him in caucus, and if nominated, would vote for him in the Senate. I think there is no doubt about this. He went into the caucus and participated in the proceedings, making no reservation that I have heard of. Yet, when the vote was ordered in the Senate this morning he nominated and voted for, John Kelsey. It is thought he is manipulated by Ben Simpson. By the way, it is reported that the Copperheads have a scheme, in case of failure to elect an out-and-out Copperhead, to concentrate their votes upon some such man as Simpson who is neither fish nor fowl, and with the help of the recusant members mentioned, elect him. The report is not worth much. Some men have been struck by lightning; but I do not think Gibbs is in danger. If those men can be induced to vote for the Copperheads to elect Simpson, they can be induced to vote with them for Nesmith.

The House Committee on Elections, to-day, instructed to report on the Grant county contest next Thursday, notwithstanding the House had yesterday, by resolution, given the committee authority to send for evidence.

The purpose of Copperheads is to rush the matter through—evidence or no evidence—and oust the sitting members before a vote can be reached, on either the amendment or the Senatorial question. I hear it reported to-night that one of the Grant county members was told to-day that if they would vote against Gibbs, they could hold their seats; otherwise they would go out in a hurry. This would seem to indicate that three votes had been secured or, at least that the Copperheads think them secured, to their purposes on all questions involved in the contest. I confess, the voting to-day looks like it. But I am not willing, after all, to think so meanly, without any evidence, of any Union man now in the Legislature, and I mention it only as a report that may or may not be true.

Mitchell has acted well since the caucus. He made a vigorous contest for the nomination, but when it was lost, he called at once on the Governor, offered his congratulations and assured his successful competitor of his earnest desire that he should be elected. Mr. Mitchell cheerfully accorded to the Governor the credit of having made an honorable contest. He has labored faithfully to-day, to induce his friends to keep the faith with the Union party and the successful candidate that he himself is willing and anxious to maintain. If any of them have gone over to the Copperhead camp, it is no fault of Mr. Mitchell.

The affairs of the Insane asylum and the Penitentiary will receive a thorough overhauling during the session. Mr. Atkinson is here with the school bill prepared by a committee of the State Teachers' Association and has submitted it to the Senate Committee on Education. It will receive little attention till the Senatorial question and Constitutional Amendment are disposed of. Scarcely any attention has been given yet to matters of general legislation.

SPOTLESS.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL'S PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY, 89 First Street, is the place to get those SPOTLESS SUN-PEARLS, CARD PICTURES, PEARL AMBROTYPES, Etc., Etc. Experience tells us that "the best are always the cheapest," which accounts for the large number of sitters who daily visit this Establishment. Pictures taken equally well in sunny or cloudy weather.

THE INDICATIONS are that we are to have a pleasant season and clear weather for a few weeks, and all should bear in mind that BUCHTEL is now taking those inimitable SUN PEARLS that everybody admire so much, and also the most BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPHS. COME ALWAYS IN THE FORENOON, and examine the specimens. Experience, material, and close business habits need no bombast. se16d3t

THE THREATENING ASPECT OF the weather imperatively demands that, to avoid discomfort from the wet season now rapidly advancing, every one should go to the ST. LOUIS STORE, NO. 111 FRONT STREET, and provide themselves with a suit of that SUPERB THICK CLOTHING which KOHN & FISHEL brought on and are constantly receiving, EXPRESSLY FOR THIS CLIMATE." And do not forget to examine their EXTENSIVE STOCK of extra fine and heavy BOOTS AND SHOES.

Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I. O. of O. F.—Meets every Wednesday Evening, at 8 o'clock, in Stark's building, third story, opposite Arrigoni's Hotel. Members of the order are invited to attend. By order of N. G.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held last evening; Mayor Falling in the Chair.

The following members were present: Messrs. Bea- [illegible], Carter, Halleck, Lownsdale, and Zieber.

The records of the previous meeting were read and approved.

A petition for a steam fire engine for Protection Engine Company No. 4, was received from officers and members of that company, and referred to the committee on fire and water.

A petition for a new hose carriage, for the use of Willamette Engine Company No. 1, was also received and referred to the same committee.

A communication from Street Commissioner Davis, [illegible] catch-water basins on Salmon street, along [illegible] of the county sewer, was received, and the basins were ordered to be constructed.

A communication from the same officer, relating to [illegible] water on block 120, near the McAdamized road, was received and referred to the committee on health and police.

The committee on ways and means reported favorable [illegible] the petition of John Donovan for remission of [illegible] which was adopted. Also, unfavorable to refunding [illegible] paid by Deischneider for breaking street lamps, [illegible] which was adopted.

A bill of expenses for cutting trenches, etc., in stopping the fire on the burning debris below the Gas Company's works, was reported by Chief Engineer Young [illegible] fire and water committee. The use of the steam fire engine of No. 2 was gratuitous. Among the items of expense were $6 for coal furnished by the Gas Light Company, $3 50 for wood; $2 25 for oil; $25 for engineer's services, and other amounts to the sum of $75 55. Warrants were ordered for the same.

A sewer was allowed to be constructed for draining lots [illegible] and 5 in block 8.

A motion to have the sewer on Morrison street extended to low water mark at the public expense, was lost.

The Judiciary Committee reported favorably to amending the Charter, so as to provide for the partial improvement of streets, and Mayor Falling requested to petition the Legislature to repeal section 100 of chapter 8 of the Charter.

Motion to exempt Mr. Kelly from license the ensuing year, in consequence of loss of business, [retailing] [illegible] on account of building operations next door.

Five hundred feet of the best quality of oak tan hose was authorized for use of the Fire Department.

An Ordinance providing for the improvement of B street, as proposed, by the 1st of December, 1866, and assessing the cost of the same, $8,533, upon the adjacent property, and authorizing the committee on streets to contract for [illegible] was passed.

Ordinance No. 354 was so amended as to provide for the City Auditor, instead of Mayor, approving bonds for licenses [illegible].

Warrants were authorized in payment of claims against [illegible] as follows: H. L. Pittock, advertising, $9; J. [illegible] & Co., repairs to streets, as per contract, $555; [illegible], connecting fire cistern with main, $11; [illegible], work at Engine-House No. 2, $23 50; J. B. [illegible] for dredger, $5; Wm. Young, stone monument, $30; J. D. Emmons, repairs to cisterns, $150.

Council adjourned.

THE RIVER.—It appears that our statement on Tuesday morning regarding the depth of water in the Willamette [illegible] in one particular. The largest sized [illegible] reach Portland, and what was said was based on incorrect information. Mayor Falling, in company with Capt. Connor of the Sierra Nevada, and Capt. Brown of Astoria, on Tuesday, visited the mouth of the river, where some hours were spent in sounding the [illegible], which resulted in showing that but 11 feet of water is to be found in the course a ship must necessarily take to reach this port. This survey was made at dead low water. Of course the tide advantage can be availed of in navigating, but the river is rapidly falling, and it [illegible] will become lower than it has been known for years, and possibly by the time another steamer reaches the mouth of the Willamette it will be necessary to lighten the cargo. The report of Mr. Walker, Superintendent of the river improvements, submitted to the Chairman of the committee for the week ending September 15th, 1866, reads as follows: "During the week we have performed but one day's work with the snag boat, removing [illegible] and a quantity of snags, etc., after which all hands were [illegible] work on board the dredger, for the purpose of fitting her up, and getting her down the river to the [illegible], which was accomplished on Thursday the 20, and I hope the present week to be able to show a good account of her operations. On Thursday and Friday soundings were made on the bar at Swan Island, and at the mouth of the river, which resulted in showing that [illegible] one foot more water at this mouth of the river than Swan Island bar. I found fourteen feet of water at the mouth of the river. [The soundings were probably taken while the tide was in—and since then the water has fallen considerably—REPORTER.] On Saturday we had the dredger into position, and commenced work. [illegible] one scow, one of the anchor posts gave [illegible], in consequence of a defect in the timber, and we were obliged to send to Portland for a new one, which was fortunately procured in time to prevent no further delay than one half day. The dredger works well, but we had some trouble in removing from the scows the [illegible] owing to its sticky nature, there being [illegible] and decayed vegetable substances mixed with it, so much so that it requires nearly or quite as much to discharge as it does to load one of the scows. I would again urge the measure mentioned in a previous report, viz.: that of stopping Willamette slough, the longer I am here the more the necessity [illegible] to my mind. There is now a strong current [illegible] at the mouth of the slough, and very [illegible] at the channel in which the dredger is operating." Mayor Falling informs us that the dredger is working at the lower mouth, and is doing good execution.

MULLAN ROAD.—In reference to the opening of the road to Montana, and the contemplated visit of [illegible] to Washington city, we quote the following from the Walla Walla Statesman of Friday last: "That the road should be opened, and that it is a necessity for Walla Walla valley, is a fact that is universally acknowledged. In this connection a project has been originated by the [illegible] of Hell Gate valley which promises success. [illegible] to dispatch an agent to Washington, to be there at the opening of the session of Congress, whose [illegible] it will be to procure an appropriation of $100,000, or whatever other sum may be necessary to open the road. To this end they have already raised a sum of [illegible] toward defraying the expenses of an agent, and have [illegible] their preference for Mr. Ritz to act in [illegible]. The question that is now addressed to [illegible] is, whether they will co-operate in a measure in which more than any other people they are interested? [illegible] the means necessary to secure the services of [illegible] already subscribed, and it remains for the people of this valley to raise the balance—say $1,200 or $1,500. The Legislature of Montana, soon to meet, will [illegible] in asking Congress to make an appropriation to open the Mullan Road. A similar memorial will [illegible] the Washington Territory Legislature. Thus fortified, an active, energetic man like Mr. Ritz—on the ground and in constant communication with the members from the Pacific coast—would have little or no difficulty in securing the necessary appropriation, and by early spring [illegible] to open the road might be perfected." —We cannot agree with the Statesman in saying that the experience of the present year demonstrates the Pend d'Oreille Lake route a failure, but we favor the opening of as many routes as possible. Mr. Ritz, in his statement, says Messrs. Moody & Co. deserve great credit for risking their capital and time in opening up the Pend d'Oreille lake route, and if their upper boats—now building—prove a success, and if they can make better time than can be made on the other route, it will be a great benefit to the traveling community. To the business man who has the means to spare, it will be much pleasanter to get on a boat, and ride a hundred miles or so than to be thumping along through the dust and over the rocks on a tired "Cayuse."

PASSENGERS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Montana, Capt. E. R. Kelly Commander, left at 1 o'clock yesterday for San Francisco, the following are passengers: Prof W H Vincent, J A Baker & wife, F C Cummings, W K Leveridge, wife & child, S A Randall, Mrs J W Jordan & child, Mrs E [illegible] Roberts, Mrs Gage, F A Davis, Mrs Reynolds, C E Pierce, Mrs R Pittock & child, F A Hill, D E Sams & wife, Frank Zink, O Gentille & wife, E G Bartlett, Mrs Vargant & 3 children, A J Logan, Mrs [illegible], Frank Davis, Mrs Fisher, Wm F Sullivan, [illegible], E S Morgan, Miss Kate Wilkilen, [illegible], M O Hall & wife, C S Silver, J S Frazar wife & child, Henry Hall, D S Roland wife & 3 children, J Ellis, [illegible] Cottrell wife & child, G H Dodd, Mrs J H [illegible], [illegible] Foster, J Laagen, D Jones, J B Allen, K W [illegible], Seth Morgan, C H Cawthorne, H [illegible], R H Carthorne, M S Sickler, A Argabright, J [illegible], C K Walker, Thos Connelly, J Kelly, J Lonny, W [illegible] & son, P S Sullivan, Chas Hill, John Farrar, [illegible], D F Wilcox, Robt Hutching & son, Joseph Smith, [illegible] Brayley, C Heiser, A Trancom, A W Hurkill, John [illegible], John Morgan, Timothy Hartnett, J [illegible], Geo O'Donnell, D S Denihey, F Welsh, Thomas Curtis, John Harlan, C W Gilman, Mrs Holdeness & daughter, Michael Fay, Miss Sophia Early, O S Silkwood, [illegible] & family, H Craik, O S Soncke, W W Dewell, [illegible], W C Rhew, M Cannady, M S Wikler, H Dephrey, and 23 others.

CROPS IN YAMHILL COUNTY.—Harry Wood, who has been spending the summer in Yamhill county, returned to the city [illegible] evening and will again take up [illegible]. From Mr. Wood we learn that the crops in Yamhill county the present season exceed the yield of any former year. The farmers have really more hay than they know what to do with, and are engaged in stacking it up in their meadows. Straw from the threshing machines is generally burned, in order to get it out of the way, and almost every evening bright fires light up the horizon in various places on the prairies. The grain is even better than in former years, and it is impossible to make an estimate of the amount of wheat and oats harvested in that one county. There is also a large yield of barley. It is a matter of deep regret that the farmers who have produced these large crops have not an active market in which to dispose of their productions.

FUNERAL OF MR. JAMES A. ALGEO.—The funeral of Mr. James A. Algeo, who died in this city on the 18th, was well attended by the firemen by the city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Algeo, when living, was an active member of Vigilance Hook and Ladder company, and although a stranger, and far from his home, was very much esteemed by all who knew him, being a very quiet and industrious young man. The procession was headed by the Mechanics' Brass Band; and as it marched through the streets to and from the cemetery, elicited much remark from those who witnessed it, as showing the feelings of human kindness existing in the hearts of the people in attendance.

EXPORTS.—The manifest of cargo leaving by steamship Montana last evening is as follows: 17 cases merchandise; 4 boxes do.; 5 trunks do.; 5 pkgs do.; 9 pkgs furniture; 20 boxes fruit; 1 cask glassware; 2 pkgs window sash; 1 sk. wheat; 1 sk. grass seed; 7 sks wool; 63½ bbls salmon; 5 bbls do.; 45 green hides; 1 bale sheep skins; 31 pkgs shocks, 4,500 feet cedar lumber; 22,015 staves and heading.

DISCHARGED.—The examination of Charles Drake, accused of setting fire to the steam saw-mill of Harbaugh & [illegible] in this city, on the evening of the 8th, closed before Justice Gradon yesterday, and defendant was discharged. W. W. Page, Esq., conducted the case on the part of the State, and Messrs. Smith and Dolph, of the firm of Mitchell, Dolph & Smith, conducted the defense.

GEN. STEELE arrived at Fort Vancouver yesterday from the interior.

CHANGE OF AGENCY.—Messrs. McCraken, Merrill & Co. having resigned the agency of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company of London and Edinburgh, in consequence of their having other business to take up their time so much as to render it impossible for them to attend to the interests of the company as they would desire, Messrs. Ferry & Foster have been appointed to take charge of the same, which, being more directly in the line of their business, will guarantee more prompt attention. The North British is one of the oldest and richest companies in Europe, and have an accumulated capital of over $11,000,000. They have deposited $50,000 under the State law of Oregon, and $75,000 under the law of California. They effect insurance at the lowest rate on buildings, their contents, vessels and [illegible], etc., etc., and all losses are paid in gold coin immediately on adjustment. Messrs. Ferry & Foster are very capable gentlemen, and attention is called to their advertisement in another column.

BENEFIT TO-NIGHT.—On the occasion of the benefit this evening to Mr. Wm. Franklin, the pioneer rider, a very attractive programme is arranged for the performances at the Circus pavilion. A magnificent silver trumpet will be presented to the fireman running around the Hippodrome track (arranged for the purpose) in the shortest time. See advertisement.

LOST.—Mr. McCoy yesterday lost a package of new clothing on the road west of Portland, for the recovery of which, in another column he offers $10 reward to the finder.

ON FIRE.—The woods are on fire in the mountains north of Mount Anderson, immediately adjacent to the southwestern part of the city.

The Legislative reports will be found on first page.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The following items are from the Pacific Tribune:

ACCIDENT.

Two men were seriously injured at Messrs Meigs & Gawley's mill, Port Madison, on the 8th inst. One had both legs broken and the other had one leg broken and was otherwise seriously injured. We are with without particulars of the cause of the accident.

SHIPPING.

We learn from purser Crosby, of the McNeer, that several vessels were seen in the Straits, bound to sea. The revenue cutter Lincoln was at Port Angeles. The brig Lucas was in the Straits upward bound; she is to load at Utsalady.

RE-APPOINTED.

The friends of Mr. Wm Huntington will be pleased to learn of his re-appointment as Marshal of the Territory, information of which he has recently received. Mr. H. has proved himself an efficient officer, and has discharged his duties with general satisfaction. The appointment was well bestowed.

STEAMBOATING.

The departure of the two steamers from this place on Monday morning created considerable furore among the friends of the two lines. The rivalry that existed caused fare to be cut down to $2 50 to Victoria. We submit that this is simply "cut-throat" business, and the community may expect to pay for it hereafter. Eight dollars for the trip to Victoria is a price no one can reasonably complain at, and we hope to see that amount, or even less if possible, fixed as the regular price of passage and maintained; but the old charge of $15 50 for a ride from this place to Victoria, about a hundred and fifty miles, was a serious impediment in the way of travel.

ASTHMA.—A spasmodic affection of the Bronchial Tubes, which are covered with a dry tenacious phlegm. Brown's Bronchial Troches will, in some cases, give immediate relief. For Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases, the Troches have proved their efficacy.

"An old lady friend having tried many remedies for Asthma, with no benefit, found great relief from the Troches."—Rev. D. Latta, Frankfort, Ill.

A Word to the Aged.—In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay, can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged
DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,
As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effect. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, acts like a charm upon the spirits. For dyspepsia, oppression after eating, bilious cholic, wind cholic, spasms of the stomach, sick or nervous head-ache, chills and fever, prostration, and all the complaints special to the feebler sex, the Bitters are earnestly recommended by thousands who are witnessed their superior efficacy in such cases. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

S.T.—1860—X.
DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS.
They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are made of pure St. Croix Rum, the celebrated Calisaya Bark, roots and herbs, and are taken with the pleasure of a beverage, without regard to age or time of day. Particularly recommended to delicate persons requiring a gentle stimulant. Sold by all Grocers, Druggists, Hotels and Saloons. Only genuine when Cork is covered by our private U. S. Stamp. Beware of counterfeits and refilled bottles.

Barnes' Magnolia Water.
A toilet delight! The ladies' treasure and gentlemen's boon! The "sweetest thing" and largest quantity. Manufactured from the rich Southern Magnolia. Used for bathing the face and person, to render the skin soft and fresh, to prevent eruptions, to perfume clothing, &c.
It overcomes the unpleasant odor of perspiration.
It removes redness, tan, blotches, &c.
It cures nervous headache and allays inflammation.
It cools, softens and adds delicacy to the skin.
It yields a subdued and lasting perfume.
It cures musquito bites and stings of insects.
It contains no material injurious to the skin.
It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere. Try the Magnolia Water once, and you will use no other Cologne, Perfumery, or Toilet Water afterwards.
DEMAS BARNES & CO.,
Props. Exclusive Agents, New York.
Sold by all Dealers on the Pacific Coast.

Mustang Liniment.
Intrinsic virtue alone could ever insure the success met by the Mexican Mustang Liniment. For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Swellings, etc., upon man, or Spavin, Ringbone, Poll Evil, Scratches, Strains, etc., upon beasts, its effects are instantaneous, soothing and wonderful. It saves time, suffering and expense to have it always in the house. None genuine unless in a steel plate label, with signature of G. W. Westbrook, and having stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.
Sold by all Dealers.

Lyon's Kathairon.
Lyon's Kathairon is a most delightful article as a Hair Dressing—to eradicate scurf and dandruff, to keep it clean, soft, and silky, and the head cool. It also prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray, and promotes its growth upon prematurely bald heads. It is sold by all dealers. E. THOMAS LYON, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Jamaica Ginger.
LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, etc., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make it a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere, at 50 cts. per bottle. Ask for "LYON'S" Pure Extract. Take no other.
CAUTION.—See that the private U. S. stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. is over each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.
DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, etc.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. Lyon, and the private stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

STOP THAT COUGHING
SOME OF YOU CAN'T, AND WE PITY you. You have tried every remedy but the ONE destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but
Pulmonary Syrup
is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of
Pulmonary Syrup
and with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the greatest Panacea of the age, for the healing of all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, assuring you that has cured thousands and it will cure YOU if you try it.
NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup
This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste; soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects; entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.
Certificates from many prominent citizens of San Francisco accompany every bottle of
NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup

Mount Hood the Highest Land in North America

At the last meeting of the California Academy of Sciences held in San Francisco, September 3d Professor A Wood who has recently returned from a botanical exploration of Oregon being present as a visitor, was invited to speak, and gave the following very interesting narrative of the recent ascent of Mount Hood by himself and a party of gentlemen which we copy from the report published in the Scientific Press

On the 10th of August last in company with Dr. Atkinson of Portland and the Rev J Dearborn of Walla Walla and three others I stood upon the summit of Mount Hood in Oregon From our last camp on the summit of the Cascade Range to this point the summit of Mount Hood is eleven miles of constant and wearying ascent at angles about as follows Five miles in the first 12 to 15 degrees, two miles to eternal snow, 25 to 30 degrees one and a half miles to the gap in the rim of the crater about 45 degrees the remaining ascent traversing the ancient crater nearly or quite 60 degrees The day was cloudless, a strong, warm wind from the southeast softened the surface of the snow and favored our ascent although it gave us much anxiety lest it should loosen some of the tremendous acclivities of snow and overhanging drifts from above us

Starting from camp at daylight, on horseback four miles we arrived at the top at 2½ P M, in 9½ hours Our apparatus for measuring the hights consisted of two barometers (aneroid) a thermometer a tin cup and spirit lamp Both barometers failed us the index ceasing to turn after something more than a complete revolution on the dial They were not made for such hights But we made good use of our thermometer The ascent was exceedingly difficult and not without danger. The long summer heat had undermined the snows causing their surface to conform more to the ruggedness of the mountains, and the slides had opened chasms of invisible depths across our path We looked down into several of these chasms and saw that the massive walls below consisted of solid, blue ice, and terminated at the blackness of darkness We could hear the noise of running water apparently in torrents One of these chasms was unavoidable—and must be crossed. Its transverse length was nearly a mile, and its width from ten to one hundred feet By the aid of a rope forty five yards in length and five pike poles each eight feet we crossed (of course at the narrowest place) and afterward by rope and poles tugging panting, dizzy we dragged ourselves up to the terrific crest of this mountain monarch

The summit area is of very limited dimensions —a crescent in shape, half a mile in length, and from three to fifty feet in width It is a fearful place, as it is the imminent brow of a precipice on the north, sheer down not less than a vertical mile of bare columnar rock! This hight is lifted so far above all other hights (except the four distant snow clad peaks to the north and Mount Jefferson on the south) that the country beneath seemed depressed to a uniform level, and the horizon retreated to the distance of more than 200 miles, including nearly all Oregon and Washington Territory

The sublimity and grandeur of that view I must leave to the imagination of the reader A canyon of enormous depth plunged down along the southeast flank, and is filled in part by a glacier evidently in motion, and having below a very abrupt termination. Terminal and lateral moraines mark its course and a torrent of water issues from beneath While we delayed here an avalanche of rocks, an immense mass started by the wind, thundered down the left wall of this canyon several thousand feet, and its tracks was marked by a trail of white smoke On the west side of the ancient crater, at the base of a vast craggy pinnacle of rocks (a portion of the ancient rim of the crater)—is still an open abyss whence issue constantly volumes of a strongly sulphurous smoke That there is also heat there is evident from the immense depression of the snow about this place—depressed not less than 1,000 feet below the snows which fill to the brim other portions of the ancient crater

As I have already stated, we found our barometers useless in these vast heights, and were reduced to the use of the thermometer alone. By this we learned the boiling of water at four several stations, as follows: At the camp, the summit of the Cascade Range, it stood at 204° Fahrenheit At the upper verge of the forest it indicated 195½°, at the highest reach of all apparent vegetation, 192°; and finally at the summit, where, after the most persevering and determined efforts (on account of the violence of the wind,) we at length, by means of a spirit lamp, changed a portion of snow to a cup of boiling water, the mercury standing firm in the cup at 186° These several results being charged to feet of elevation, according to the rule universally approved in such cases, indicate hights as follows, viz At the summit of the Cascade Range and foot of Mount Hood proper, 4,400, at the limit of forest trees, about 9,000 feet, at the highest limit of vegetation, 11,000, at the summit of the mountain, 17,500 feet.

We earnestly hope that the results may be hereafter tested by the barometer, and by triangulation Until then, we must adopt the estimate here made, as the hight of that sublime peak, and accord to Mount Hood the distinction of being the highest land in the United States, if not the highest upon the American continent.

Why the Philadelphia Convention was Muzzled.

It is not generally understood why the Philadelphia Bread and Butter Convention was muzzled —why the President cautioned the delegates to keep their mouths shut This silence came from the demand of rebels who were asked and expected to participate in its proceedings A survey of Southern papers explains the whole matter The rebels demanded that antecedency should be dropped in that body—that if Southern delegates attended they should come without reference to what they had been; The Richmond Enquirer, in speaking of the call, intimated that if a word was to be uttered as to the antecedents of the Southern delegates, or as to their present sentiments in reference to Union and rebellion, the high toned Virginians would spurn the invitation, even if it came from Johnson himself. The Milledgeville Recorder thought the question of attending the Convention was one purely of expediency, and that the South ought to hold aloof and wait for better offers The Macon Citizen was prejudiced against a Johnson Convention because the President denied Jeff Davis immediate clemency—that the South owed Johnson nothing and should send no delegates to Philadelphia. A dozen other leading papers expressed the opinion that the leading spirits of the new party—Doolittle, Randall & Co, must eat several slices of humble-pie before the adherents of the "lost cause" could condescend to sit at their feet

This bluster was all for effect. The rebels accepted the invitation to the "magnanimous offering," but they wanted Messrs Doolittle, Randall & Co to understand that they would occupy front seats in the Philadelphia Convention or none at all. The rebels not only demanded the front seats, but that the Convention should be muzzled That they would not sit in that Convention if speakers were to be allowed to pronounce the war justifiable—that the South had abandoned her cherished principles of State rights, and accepted the "situation If liberty of speech had been allowed, it was well understood that the rebels were to be made "odious" for political buncombe in the Northern States—and they declared they would not submit to this humiliation this hypocrisy, and this fraud to build up A Johnson in the North The Southern rebels understood the full purpose of the Philadelphia Convention They heard "War Democrats" declare that their political friends, Vallandigham and Wood, should not have seats in that body They feared it was a movement to supplant the Democratic party, their tried and true friend during the war Hence they hesitated as many Copperheads hesitated in the North about accepting the offer The rebels were anxious to come into the Convention if assured it was for the reorganization of the Copperhead party They knew that they would be among their friends in such a body But the getters up of the Convention were old Republicans and it was announced to be a Union Convention, and they looked upon it for a while with the greatest suspicion

The Convention assembled and adjourned The rebels took their seats as haughtily and independently as they left Congress in 1861, with sentiments still 'loyal' to the dead Confederacy No Northern delegate dare say a word pleasing to loyal ears lest disloyal ears so near, would be offended Discussion was denied Every man from the North had consented to gag himself to gratify the expressed wish of the President and for the purpose of silently informing the rebels present that by gones should be by gones That for the sake of political power they absolved traitors of treason and declared a rebel, who had periled all to destroy the Government, was as loyal a citizen and true friend to Republican principles as the Union man who had periled all to save it Silence in the Philadelphia Convention subscribed to this heresy —Marysville Appeal

POOR MAN —M I Sullivan of Champaign county Illinois thinks he has the largest cultivated farm in the world, There are 70 000 acres in it 23,000 acres of it are fenced, and all of it is serviceable and productive He has nearly 200 hired men besides tons of labor saving machinery

Richmond Press on the Philadelphia Convention

The Richmond papers are not at all pleased with the action of the Philadelphia Convention as the following editorial extracts show

[From the Richmond Times 18th]

Personally the delegates from the South were most kindly and hospitably treated but they were required to swallow resolutions which must have tasted about as pleasantly as a mixture of gall and wormwood The [illegible] of the [illegible] Orr, of South Carolina and the [illegible] Couch of Massachusetts walking arm in arm into the great wigwam was no doubt very striking, but even Orr must have made many wry faces when he swallowed several of the resolutions as the ancient Pistol did over the leek which he was forced to devour

The resolutions eulogistic of the Federal soldiers were not, we imagine hailed with any enthusiasm by the Southern delegates whose houses had been burned and lands laid waste by those immaculate patriots nor can we be expected to feel keenly interested in the widows and orphans of those Federal soldiers who were slain by our armies while every act of private charity to the widows and orphans of our own chivalrous dead is denounced as an exhibition of treason

The congratulations and rejoicings of the Convention over the triumphs of the Federal armies must have grated somewhat harshly on the ears of General Dick Taylor and the other ex Confederate Generals then and there present There is we believe, much indignation felt that the Southern delegates should have quietly submitted to the obnoxious resolutions to which we have referred Many think that they should have left the Convention rather than sanction their adoption by their presence

[From the Richmond Examiner 18th]

We did not send the right kind of delegates to the Convention and those that we did send appear to have neglected their business The whole subject has been treated exclusively from a Northern stand point, and the South has once more been left out in the cold The fourth resolution affirms the right of representation, but in terms which squint strongly at the test oath and Mr Raymond's heresies Unless the test oath be set aside we regard all talk about representation in Congress for the South as a hollow mockery That the Northern people should think it right to tax us for the support of the widows and orphans of those who fought against us, and desolated our land is not singular for they come of a selfish breed and think little of the feelings of others This exaction we suppose we must stand, but it is not right to call upon us to dishonor our gallant dead and trample upon the feelings of the widows and orphans of the South by recognising the services of the Federal soldiers and sailors in the late contest That Southern delegates should join this that they should avow their readiness to tax all including even the widows and orphans of the South for this purpose is, to us utterly incomprehensible There are some things which nature itself cannot brook, which no cold suggestion of policy will allow us to tolerate and this is one of them We have no votes and all we can do is to look on quietly, wishing success to the Conservative phalanx but declining at the same time to ratify what is not true, or to regard by ovations our own very unworthy servants who paid half fare to Philadelphia, and done less than half work

[From the Richmond Enquirer 18th]

We are astonished to read in the reports the declaration of Mr Cowan, that the resolutions were unanimously concurred in by the committee and that both resolutions and address were unanimously adopted by the Convention We protest in the name of the people that they be considered no parties to the unanimous vote We will, indeed, unanimously co operate in the great leading objects of the Convention—the restoration and vindication of the Constitution—but it was not kind necessarily to ask and impossible for us to give, our assent to declarations which violate our convictions and brand us as criminals, while before God and the world, we should spurn the accusations The Southern delegates may have given their voices or subscribed their names to these papers, but they have not subscribed the names of their people It is, indeed, impossible to read many parts of the address of Mr Raymond, and remember that it claims to have Southern endorsement without deep indignation Whatever he may think, the Southern people at least repel and spurn the charge that they are rebels or insurgents They deny, too, that the Federal Government was on the defensive and was not the assailant in the war They deny—and at the stake would admit—that they were constitutionally warred upon They deny many other averments and dogmas of the resolutions and address, and Mr Raymond knew that they did, and our delegates knew it too Why, then, press these things upon us for adoption? Why offend us, as in some instances, by asking us to formally concur in the propositions which could not but infringe on our sensibilities and why thrust terms and expressions into our own mouths that we can not but regard as indignities? Nothing is left us but to spew them out

PRIZE FIGHT.—The Helena Republican, of the 25th ult, contains a full report of the pugilistic combat for which Messrs Con Orem and Hugh O Neil have been disciplining their physical forces during the past three months It took place at Helena, upon the 24th, in the presence of about fifteen hundred persons, fifty one rounds were fought, and the contest occupied fifty three minutes O'Neil weighed one hundred and eighty seven pounds and relied upon his strength to win the victory Orem's weight was one hundred and forty pounds, but his superior science and strategy neutralized the apparent advantage of his opponent Orem was cool and maintained a defensive policy in the opening rounds O'Neil was passionate and made desperate assaults upon his enemy, who repulsed them in the outset by "going down" In the latter part of the fight when O Neil had been exhausted to a certain extent by his aggressive tactics, Orem, who had been eagerly watching for his moment, displayed his energy and wind which he had hitherto wisely retained in the reserve O'Neil, in a temporary excitement struck a "foul" blow, when his antagonist was on his knees, and the prize was awarded to Orem Both were severely punished, but could have maintained the struggle for some time The audience appeared to be satisfied with the result, although a few parties, who had probably lost dust or greenbacks by the defeat of their favorite, expressed their opinion in language which was more forcible than elegant, and insinuated that it was like some "sold" horse races

The twenty sixth general report of the Emigration Commissioner for 1866 shows that in the 51 years that have elapsed since 1814, there have left the United Kingdom 5 901,510 emigrants, of whom 3,597 789, or nearly 61 per cent have gone to the United States of America and 1 17 ,850 to other places Of the 4,857,530 who have left the United Kingdom during the last 25 years, upward of 60 per cent were Irish and of these the great bulk have gone to the United States. The Irish emigration may be calculated at an average of upward of 116,000 a year during the whole of that period, which is considerably more than the natural increase of the people could supply The reduction of the population of Ireland in the last 25 years is thus to a great extent accounted for irrespective of the morality in the famine of 1847 The emigration during the year 1865 was 209 801 of whom there were English 61 345, Scotch 12 879, Irish 106 076 In the first three months of the present year the number of emigrants who left the United Kingdom from the ordinary ports was 39,072 of whom 32 913 went to the United States This is one of the largest emigrations in the period since 1864

Theodore Tilton and Fred Douglas walked arm in arm at which there was great applause —Dispatch

There it is, gentleman, in black and white—a gushing spectacle surely —Bread-and Butter Organ

Do you know what and who Fred Douglass is Mr Statesman? We'll tell you He is the child of a mulatto woman and a white skinned Democratic father, and is as far ahead of any Democratic editor in this State in point of good behavior generally, as it is possible for one man to be ahead of another We don t think the color of the man enhances his physical beauty in the least, but he is not responsible for it any more than you are responsible for your contemptible narrow minded envy of a "nigger's" success in life It don t hurt a man any more to have a little color in his skin than to have a black heart especially when he is not responsible for the sins of others —Sentinel

FROM THE PLAINS —The following items appear in the Fort Kearny Herald of the 24th of August

The passenger trains will commence running between Kearny and Omaha in a day or two It is generally understood that Kearny will be the temporary terminus of the road All freight and passengers will therefore stop at this point until the road nears the mountains We are informed that track constructions west of us will soon be discontinued and the hands discharged until Spring Kearny will in that event grow fat during the ensuing Winter

Nothing late from the Indian war It is supposed the Chief Commissioner is trying to suppress the news

"The regiment of negro troops assigned to duty on the Plains has been stricken down in St Louis with small pox and cholera"

Terrible Mismanagement in the Austrian Army

After his defeat at Konigsgratz, the Commander in Chief of the Army of the North told the correspondents of the Vienna newspapers that they might write what they pleased and of the permission given I will now take [illegible] advantage It would have been very easy for Benedek to repulse the three Prussian columns which entered Bohemia through the passes leading from Saxony Silesia and Glatz This he did not attempt to do because Saxony was not to be made the theatre of war and his object was to effect a junction with the Bavarian and other Federal troops As the Bavarians [illegible] promised did not make their appearance Benedek resolved to act on the defensive and fight but to prevent a junction between the two armies that were opposed to him Unfortunately the strength and skill of the enemy had been as much underrated as our own power had been overrated At the very opening of the campaign the Austrian Commander had occasion to remark that with the Prussians war is an art Thousands of millions of florins have been spent on our army but it has learned little or nothing of the modern art of warfare Though it cannot be denied that some of the commanders of the corps committed grievous faults the old fashioned and most injudicious military system was the principal cause of our defeat The needle gun gives the Prussians a great advantage over us, and the superior intelligence of their commanders a still greater The nation has been told that treachery and a remarkably complete system of espionage were the causes of our disasters Treachery there has been none and probably the spy system is less complete than is supposed At the outbreak of the war many Prussian subjects either possessed or managed industrial establishments on this side of the frontier and they were enabled to inform their friends at home of what was passing as all the communications were left open The inhabitants of the frontier districts offered to organize a Landsturm for the purpose of keeping guard over the passes and defiles, but they were haughtily told that such matters did not concern civilians. On paper our army numbers 800 000 men and rations are supplied for that number of soldiers but it is a positive fact that Benedek had not 250 000 fighting men under his command Where were the others? Were they perhaps at Custozza? The fact is that many districts have sent no recruits to the army In many parts of Upper Silesia the commissioners forgot to appear on the appointed day, and in a district in Austria no recruits were levied because the commission ran away as it was reported that the Prussians were coming Immense quantities of provisions had been collected at certain central points, but they were so badly distributed that whole brigades were for days without bread" Everywhere a want of foresight and of energetic and uniform management was perceptible —Vienna Paper

"The President of the United States has so singular a combination of defects for the office of a constitutional magistrate, that he could have obtained the opportunity to misrule the nation only by the visitation of Providence, Insincere as well as stubborn, cunning as well as unreasonable, vain as well as illtempered greedy of popularity as well as arbitrary in disposition veering in his mind as well as fixed in his will, he unites in his character the seemingly opposite qualities of demagogue and autocrat and converts the Presidential chair into a stump or throne according as the impulse seizes him to cajole or to command Doubtless much of the evil developed in him is due to his misfortune in having been lifted by events to a position which he lacked the elevation and breadth of intelligence adequately to fill He was cursed with the possession of a power and authority which no man of narrow mind bitter prejudices and inordinate self estimation, can exercise without depriving himself as well as injuring the nation Egotistic to the point of mental disease, he resented the direct and manly opposition of statesmen to his opinions and moods as a personal affront, and descended to the last degree of littleness in a political leader that of betraying his party, in order to gratify his spite. He of course became the prey of intriguers and sycophants—of persons who understand the art of managing minds which are at once arbitrary and weak, by allowing them to retain unity of will amid the most palpable inconsistencies of opinion, so that inconsistency to principle shall not weaken force of purpose, nor the emphasis be at all abated with which they may bless to-day what yesterday they cursed Thus the abhorrer of traitors has now become their tool Thus the denouncer of Copperheads has now sunk into dependence on their support Thus the imposer of conditions of reconstruction has now become the foremost friend of the unconditional return of the rebel States. Thus the furious Union Republican, whose harangues against his political opponents almost scared his political friends by their violence has now become the shameless betrayer of the people who trusted him And in all these changes of base he has appeared supremely conscious, in his own mind, of playing an independent a consistent and especially a conscientious part Indeed, Mr Johnson's character would be imperfectly described, if some attention was not paid to his conscience the purity of which is a favorite of his own discourse, and the perversity of which is the wonder of the rest of mankind"

SUPPOSED HIGHWAY ROBBERY —Mr Edgar, the Blackfoot Expressman, informs us that a man named Davidson, on his way out from Bear Gulch lost $7 000 under the following circumstances He was leaving the gulch, and was mounted on a spirited horse He had proceeded but a short distance, when two or three persons came riding up behind him Just at this time his horse shied and threw him off He was stunned by the fall, but after a time recovered, and on looking about found his horse and cantenas, but the treasure was gone The impression is, that the parties who rode up behind him, took advantage of the accident and emptied his cantenas Davidson, the man who was robbed, took a stock of goods out from Portland last fall, and is connected with a Portland house No clue had been obtained to the robbers, and it was thought they had made good their escape —W W Statesman
